In Roadmap to Apartheid, Ana Nogueira, a white South African, and Eron Davidson, a Jewish Israeli, take a close look at the apartheid comparison often used to describe the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. Their film breaks down the rhetorical analogy into a fact-based comparison, noting where the analogy is useful and appropriate, and where it is not. This film is as much a historical document of the rise and fall of apartheid, as it is a film about why many Palestinians feel they are living in an apartheid system today, and why an increasing number of people around the world agree with them.

Please register today and join EPF PIN at the VFHL Film Salon on September 13.

Israel because they so strongly mimic the conditions of Jesus' time of Imperial occupation.

A pilgrimage that confines itself to holy sites and historic locations misses opportunities to experience the political and social tensions like those Jesus knew and addressed with his living gospel of justice, healing and compassion.

This tri-fold, full-color brochure will soon be available to all those interested in a visit to the Holy Land. Stay tuned for more information.
