PIN Bulletin For Local Organizers
PIN 2022 Review

Will you strive for justice and peace among all people, and respect the dignity of every human being?

PALESTINE ISRAEL NETWORK
EPISCOPAL PEACE FELLOWSHIP

epfnational.org/PIN/

EPF PIN 2022 REVIEW

Palestinian flags fly over Aida refugee camp in Bethlehem, signaling Palestinian identity and resistance to oppression. (Photo: Tom Foster)

EPF PIN welcomed the new year 2023 eager to engage this biennium and the opportunities it holds: preparing for the 81st General Convention in Louisville in 2024, nurturing and strengthening our organization, and as ever being inspired by events on the ground, responding to the call by Palestinians for solidarity in their struggle for liberation.

We must begin this year from where we ended 2022, so we have reflected on the year just passed. We offer this review of 2022 to members and supporters.

The full report can be found here on our website.

Here are a few highlights from the report:

Despite disappointment about a shortened General Convention with limited attendance, PIN fully participated in online legislative committee testimony that contributed to passing several important resolutions.

The Cotton Fite Award honored the Rev. Canon Dr. Richard Toll and the John Nevin Sayre Award honored Dr. Linda Gaither.

PIN restructured itself to work more nimbly and broaden our reach into parishes, dioceses, and allied communities.

PIN rejoiced in the unification of Palestinians throughout the Palestinian homeland and diaspora in resisting Zionist settler-colonialism, and we despaired at the continuing violence and oppression of the occupation.

There was much to be grateful for in 2022. We invite others to join us as we continue to advocate for a just peace in Palestine and Israel. Please support PIN with your gifts of time, talent, prayers and financial contributions.

episcopal peace fellowship
creative peacemaking

Donate to EPF PIN

Visit our website